

Keeana Saxon

Keeana Saxon is an Attorney, piano teacher, and entrepreneur. After graduating from Spelman College with a BA in Classical Piano Performance ('99) and Western New England University School of Law ('03), she practiced law in the private and public sector (CT and MA). She was then appointed to the Boston Licensing Board in 2014. She teaches classical piano to 17 students weekly. She is also the Founder and CEO of Kidogo Productions, a multimedia startup centering and celebrating the African Diaspora in its content for preschoolers. Keeana lives in Jamaica Plain with her husband and daughter.

