

John T. Midgett Biography

John T. Midgett is an employment law attorney that has worked in private practice and for companies large and small for more than twenty-five years. He is currently Senior Associate General Counsel – Employment for DailyPay, Inc., the U.S.’s leading on-demand pay company. In this role, he oversees all policies and employee relations issues impacting the company’s workforce located in thirty plus states and two countries.

Prior to working at DailyPay, John worked in similar capacities at fashion brand Kenneth Cole Productions, Inc. as Vice President and Associate General Counsel of Employment, and United Airlines, Inc. as Senior Counsel of Employment. John also worked in private practice for several law firms in Chicago prior to becoming an in-house attorney representing companies across the country. John received his Bachelor of Science in Industrial Engineering and Management Science from Northwestern University’s McCormick School of Engineering and his Juris Doctorate from Northwestern’s J.D. Pritzker School of Law.